Learn how Portland reduced their greenhouse gas emissions while their population grew. They created a detailed Climate Action Plan: our cities can too. Come hear inspiring climate planner Susan Anderson describe how the City of Portland and Multnomah County brought greenhouse gas reductions from goal to reality. Cities are important, because they account for 70% of greenhouse gas emissions in the U.S. Our local cities have set goals in the King County-Cities Climate Collaboration (K4C). But we aren't meeting our goals. Let's see what we can learn from Portland's Climate Action Plan.

Coffee, tea & breakfast snacks provided.

People for Climate Action members organized and paid for this event. Many other climate-focused groups are helping promote it. Thank you!

Motivational Movies

What do a young bartender in the Bronx, a coal miner's daughter in West Virginia, a grieving mother in Nevada, and a registered nurse in Missouri all have in common? Go behind the scenes as four determined women challenge big-money politicians in the 2018 race for Congress. Available 5/1 on Netflix. Want to host a viewing party?

A documentary about gerrymandering from Participant Media, "Slay the Dragon," premiered at the Tribeca Film Festival on April 27. Viewing information will be posted on FB/website once available.

Open Positions: Highlights

Indivisible Kirkland's work depends upon engaged and active volunteers. Thank you for considering getting more involved! All positions will include training and guidance, if needed. Positions may also be shared so that time commitments are manageable. For more information or to express interest in a position, please email Indivisible Kirkland (info@ikwa.info).

School Board Observer: Attend monthly LWSD School Board meetings/take notes, which will be shared with IK organizers and members. This position helps Indivisible Kirkland maintain awareness of important district-related issues, especially those concerning equity & inclusion. The meetings are generally the 1st Monday monthly and can be attended in person or remotely. (This position runs until June 2019.)

IK Archivist: Attend IK events and meetings. Take photos and write short summaries of the events/meetings to be shared on our Facebook page on and with our website manager. (The commitment for this position runs until September 1st, 2019.)

Indivisible Nat'l Conference Call Observer: Remotely "attend" conference calls with Indivisible National and report back to the IK Steering Committee. May include posting items to social media (FB, Twitter) to share information with membership and followers. (The commitment for this position runs until September 1st, 2019.)

Indivisibles and activists are being asked to take the pledge, exactly the same pledge each candidate is being asked to sign, because the movement has never been led by candidates...it's always been led by you! This is the first step in the 2020 Indivisible Elections Initiative.

- Make the debates constructive
- Rally behind the winner
- Do the work to win back the White House

Candidates are also taking the pledge. Booker, Buttigieg, Castro, Harris, Inslee, Ryan, Sanders and Warren are the only candidates of the 24 candidates, being tracked by IN, who've taken the pledge. Still waiting on the rest of the field to demonstrate their commitment to save democracy.
